Re: English Teacher Position

To whom it may concern,

My skill in developing quality curriculum, my experience collaborating with a team and my supportive classroom demeanor would be a great fit for your school community.

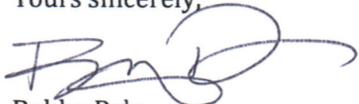

My teaching experience has provided me with a variety of opportunities to learn best teaching practices. I have an extensive understanding of how to craft lessons that accommodate the most driven student, the most jaded student, special education students and English language learners. I also know how to collaborate and work with my fellow educators as a team to implement the best possible learning experiences for our kids based on our collective knowledge.

In addition to improving academic achievement in my students, I also seek to motivate them to use the skills they learn to create positive change for themselves and their world. I want them to be critical thinkers beyond the classroom. To that end, I look to develop units using content that speaks directly to them. I am most pleased with my slam poetry and media literacy units because I deftly combined engaging real world subject matter with standards-based skill sets. They are the best example of how I try to instill my students not just with new skills that help them in school, but also an understanding of how they can use those skills to make their own impact on the world at large.

My passion for inspiring and educating young people also extends beyond the classroom. I have contributed to programs in my community like Food What?! and the Teen Kitchen Project. I am most proud of my involvement in the founding of Launch Pad Educational Programs. As one of the original members, I have worked to help our program grow from a one-to-one tutoring model to one that focuses on improving literacy and has given away almost 10,000 free books to kids in the last three years. In the classroom or out, I am eternally focused on supporting children in education.

I would love to bring my talents back into the classroom at your school. Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Yours sincerely,

Bobby Pelz
